Reason for change and expected benefits/business motivation:

The current functionality of the Enhanced Information Database (EIDB) restricts the data scope of transactions based on the BIC's country code, using an automatic filtering process. A recent Written Procedure, initiated at the TIPS-WG level, highlighted the need to expand data visibility in the EIDB. This enhancement aims to provide Central Banks with a complete view of TIPS-DCAs' and ASTAs' aggregated data within the perimeter of TIPS based on their respective currency<sup>1</sup>.

Description of requested changes:

The enhanced functionality of EIDB will modify the visibility criterion by restricting the data scope on the basis of the currency instead of the country.

Each central bank will have the ability to filter and access data according to the specific analysis they wish to conduct. For non-euro central banks, this enhancement will enable access to data on parties using their respective currency.

With regards to cross-currency transactions, the visibility will be restricted on the leg part relevant to each NCB's currency.

High-level description of Impact:

Impacts on other projects and products:

<sup>1</sup> For example, all the NCB users of the euro community will be able to view all transactions attempting to debit or credit a BIC, authorised on a EUR-denominated TIPS DCA or ASTA regardless of the country of the NCB in which it was opened and regardless of the country of the BIC.
